The 2019 Year-End Report highlights eight traditional recipes, each steeped in Tigua culture and history. The featured dishes range from albondigas to verdolagas and classic tigua bread—many of which are not only served in tribal homes, but also prepared for the St. Anthony’s Feast. All of the recipes hold agricultural and historical ties to Pueblo lands and people. Tigua harvests and indigenous crops, such as corn, beans, squash, chilies, and tomatoes, determined what was prepared and consumed on the Pueblo. Tigua planting cycles followed the phases of the moon. A new field, for example, would be planted four days before the new moon on the third month (i.e., March) of the new year. All of the featured recipes were contributed and prepared by Tribal members. Thank you to all those who made this project possible.

LETTER FROM THE GOVERNOR

As first-time Governor of the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo, I recognize that 2019 was a period of personal and professional growth as both a tribal citizen and an elected leader. This experience has filled me with great pride and honor to stand among a legacy of leaders that each have contributed to the economic, social, and sovereign advancements this Pueblo has achieved. Each of these accomplishments—small and large—have not always come easy but the perseverance and persistence of our community has brought a measure of success that any tribal nation would be proud of. While the Pueblo has travelled this far, I recognize that we have many miles ahead of us. Setting our trajectory toward economic freedom is my ultimate goal.

I want to take this opportunity to establish my vision forward. But, before I share my vision, we, as a community, need to understand the position and economic fortitude that the Pueblo currently possesses. The Pueblo, for example, is one of the region’s top employers, major landholder, and significant local economic driver. While this is fact, our potential is truly untapped. It is Tribal Council’s vision to parlay our assets into a regional authority, which in turn, can drive our educational, health, and sovereign priorities forward. To this end, this Council intends to establish meaningful and genuine partnerships with local governments, educational institutions, and regional business communities.

For too long, the Pueblo has not taken full opportunity to assert its voice into the surrounding region as it relates to community and economic development. Our elected officials and community leaders are carrying the Pueblo’s voice, partnerships, and commitments to local and national boards. These commitments include forging business relationships with new partners and entities. While these are new and somewhat foreign avenues, Tribal Council recognizes that these types of relationships and commitments can leverage the Pueblo’s overall position.
I also understand that the internal government and enterprise relationships are equally—and, in many cases, more important—than the external ones. Creating synergies among management fosters cohesion and progress necessary for the advancement of our budding nation. This year-end report not only highlights the Pueblo’s accomplishments but also represents a shift toward new leadership priorities and approaches. The Chilicote Ranch, for example, has begun a transformation from cattle operations to one rooted in agriculture. This shift is projected to yield a much greater revenue potential than its former operation. These types of initiatives will diversify the Pueblo’s financial holdings, thus mitigating negative impacts to the tribal community.

As I operationalize this vision, I want to thank you for entrusting your faith in me and Tribal Council. It is important that I safeguard your trust as we continue to move the needle forward. The sacrifices we make today ensure the preservation of our culture and heritage as we look to the future.

GOVERNOR MICHAEL SILVAS
Albondigas are not only a traditional staple among tribal feasts, but also a popular meal prepared throughout the year. This dish is one of many prepared for the St. Anthony’s Feast on June 13th every year and is one with high nostalgic and sentimental value among Pueblo members. The Elder’s Club contributed this recipe; they often prepare traditional meals for community events.

The Ysleta del Sur Pueblo Tribal Council is the duly constituted traditional governing body of the Pueblo exercising all inherent governmental power, fiscal authority and tribal sovereignty as recognized in sections 101 and 104 of the Act of August 18, 1987 (the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo Restoration Act), 101 Stat. 666, Public Law No. 100-89. Elected tribal officials—such as the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Alguacil (Traditional Sheriff), and four Council members—serve annual terms. The Council directs and approves the strategic and legislative efforts for the Pueblo. Additional Council seats include a Cacique and a War Captain. Appointed to life-long terms, the Cacique and War Captain provide spiritual and traditional guidance. The Pueblo is governed by oral tradition as well as the Tribal Code of Laws enforced by Tribal Police and upheld by the Tribal Court.

NESTORA PIAROTE GRANILLO SCULPTURE DESECRATION

In 2018, YDSP unveiled the Nestora Piarote Granillo sculpture at the Tigua Indian Cultural Center. Born in 1849, Nestora lived during a very challenging era for the Tiguas. She was a potter and is honored for her guidance to endure and overcome. Nestora is a symbol of the sacredness of Tigua women and their role in maintaining tradition and community. Nestora brought about a legacy of over 800 descendants. Casted by Julio Sanchez De Alba, the sculpture is a monument to Tigua women. On October 9, 2017, however, the artwork was vandalized. The desecrated statue was covered with red paint and a wooden cross placed on its pedestal.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) arrested Justin Haggerty on May 9, 2019, in Atlanta, Georgia in connection with the offense. Haggerty had formerly served as a captain in the U.S. Army. At the time of the crime, Haggerty was stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas. While this case remains open, the Pueblo is confident that law enforcement efforts by YDSP Tribal Police and the FBI will yield justice for this crime.

2019 ADULT BEHAVIORAL RISK FACTOR SURVEILLANCE SURVEY (BRFSS)

The Ysleta del Sur Pueblo Department of Health Services conducted a Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance Survey (BRFSS) in 2019. Developed by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC), the survey collects data regarding health-related risk behaviors, chronic health conditions, and use of preventive services. YDSP, in collaboration with the Albuquerque Area Southwest Tribal Epidemiology Center, conducted the BRFSS. The study’s findings will determine the community’s health status and in turn, YDSP can prioritize health issues, apply for grants, and create health policy.

FIRST ANNUALCACIQUE AWARDS

The YDSP Cacique and Traditional Council hosted the first annual Cacique Awards. The award is designed to recognize tribal members who demonstrate... their dedication to traditional and cultural activities or made significant contributions to the community. In 2019, the Cacique awarded 28 tribal members at the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo Tuh-la.

The event also recognized the contributions of Tigua stakeholders for their efforts in building the Pueblo’s economic capacity and potential. Speaking Rock General Manager Karl Maahs, Tigua Inc. CEO Don Wright, and former Governor Carlos Hisa were acknowledged and invited to participate in a traditional blanketing ceremony.

EL PASO SHOOTING VICTIMS’ FUND

The El Paso shooting in August 2019 was an unprecedented attack that deeply distressed the community and prompted the Pueblo to provide some relief. The YDSP Tribal Council believed it was critical to support the victims and their families by making a $100,000 donation to the Paso del Norte Foundation. The Pueblo also donated all the proceeds from the August 15, 2019, Clint Black concert concessions.

ROCKING THE REZ POW WOW

The 10th annual Rocking the Rez Pow Wow kicked-off on October 5, 2019 at the P’a Kitu (District II) village. The Pow Wow brings together Native American tribes from across the nation to celebrate their cultures and traditions. The event is open to the public and features traditional dresses, dances, drums, and concessions, as well as contest opportunities for native performers. Pow Wow guests include the Eagle’s Claw Warrior Society, Tigua Social Dancers, and YDSP Traditional Council. The event also includes the coronation of the Tigua Princess. The 2019 Tigua Princess is Amry Rodriguez. Ms. Rodriguez hopes “to inspire youth to overcome challenges and be the change at the Pueblo.”

The Pow Wow is sponsored by Speaking Rock Entertainment and organized by the Pow Wow Committee Rafael Gomez, Javier Loera, Nancy Torres, Ariel Torres, and Adam Nevarez.

YDSP HEALTH CLINIC PROJECT

The Pueblo has partnered with the Indian Health Service (IHS) to address the health needs of the Pueblo through a Joint Venture Agreement whereby the Pueblo builds a facility while IHS supports staffing. Recent years have demonstrated increased and improved services to tribal citizens, but health disparities among tribal members are still a significant concern. The 77,100 square foot clinic aims to alleviate the shortage of health services and enhance the well-being of YDSP citizens.

YDSP held a groundbreaking event for the planned health center on November 17, 2019 at 9545 Socorro Road. Jordan Foster Construction and Carl Daniel Architects were awarded contracts for the build and design of the new facility.

SUN BOWL ASSOCIATION AND UTEP PARTNERSHIPS

YDSP became a new sponsor for the Sun Bowl Association, a non-profit organization, that coordinates and promotes community events including the Tony the Tiger Sun Bowl football game. As part of the sponsorship, Speaking Rock coordinated the half-time performance of the band P.O.D. for the 2019 bowl game.
The Pueblo and the University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) Athletics Department also forged a partnership to broaden outreach and create new marketing opportunities, especially for Speaking Rock Entertainment. The partnership will allow the Pueblo to reach UTEP’s large and diverse audience. UTEP students, faculty, employees, alumni, business partners, and fans, for example, will be exposed to the Tigua culture and YDSP’s contributions to the region. To this end, UTEP will house a YDSP gallery featuring cultural photograph displays and Tigua artwork. Further, UTEP electronic advertising boards will highlight YDSP and Speaking Rock, while the Pueblo will host tailgate events. Finally, this new partnership also provides opportunities for YDSP citizens such as scholarships, youth basketball camps, and UTEP academic camps.

2019 BUDGET OVERVIEW

OPERATING BUDGET

The Department of Tribal Operations facilitates the annual budget formulation and tracks its performance throughout the year by managing budget revisions, monitoring for compliance with funding agency cost principles, and reporting budget activity to Tribal Council. The Pueblo’s operating budget incorporates all federal, state, private, and tribal funds available for the reportable year. The operating budget is used to execute the day to day operations of the tribal government and includes all core programs and services available to the YDSP membership. The 2019 YDSP Operating Budget at year-end totaled $71.6 million, where capital outlays accounted for 53% of the budget followed by direct services (17%), and general government and community development (both at 11%). The budget increased by approximately 76% compared to 2018 due to construction costs earmarked for the new health clinic, including associated infrastructure and equipment, along with a repurposing of the Tiwahun complex. Capital funding for information technology infrastructure was also earmarked for a fiber project and software as the government continues its transition into an enterprise management system. The ultimate goal with IT capital investments is to better manage its network, enable disaster recovery abilities and enhance its overall security.

The Pueblo’s revised enrollment and related community growth is evidenced in the budget. Sizeable investments were also reflected in the Department of Public Safety’s Communications and Fire Divisions whereby new vehicles were secured in connection with the Fire Division initiating medical runs in 2019. Consequently, the Communications Division reflects a growth in personnel due to an operational change to begin 24-hour dispatch services and transfer overall responsibility to the Pueblo government sector. A DPS computer aided dispatch system was also deployed along with a radio communication system upgrade. Other capital investments included land acquisition (nearly $1.6 million) related to master planning to be conducted by the Planning, Design and Construction Division.

The budget is supported by various revenue sources such as federal awards in the forms of contracts and grants, state awards, and tribal revenue generated by the Pueblo’s economic and enterprise activity. Grant revenue accounted for 18% of the operating budget while tribal revenue accounted for the remaining 82%. It is important to note that the majority of the budget increases were attributed to programs and services supported exclusively from tribal revenue. Approximately $1.3 million in grants were closed for various services such as workforce development, education support, child nutrition, and public safety. It is important to note that a majority of the grants that close out in a year will be awarded under new funding authorities in the subsequent year. Nearly 80% of all grant revenue is from the Department of Health & Human Services, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Department of Transportation, and Department of Interior.

Other noteworthy occurrences included revenue offsets from a new recurring Texas Health and Human Services Commission grant for Opioid support services. The Sacred Connections (Behavioral Health) Division also added new support services for non-Tribal family members in efforts to meet their health and wellness goals. Further, a U.S. Dept of Education grant for the Department of Tribal Empowerment (DTE) concluded; a program aimed at youth development and skill building. Moreover, DTE assumed administrative responsibilities of the Youth Prevention Selective (YPS) grant program funded by the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC), which is a curriculum-based program for youth aimed at deterring alcohol and substance abuse. Finally, the 2019 budget also included wage adjustments and 16 new positions.

BUDGET SURPLUS

An important budget activity conducted each year is management of previous year contract/grant carryover. The carryover represents unspent funding as of the last day of the calendar year and is therefore carried forward for budgeting into the next operational period. The total contract/grant carryover for 2018 was approximately $6.4 million.

It is important to note that some of this surplus is a result of one-time funds which are distributed at the end of year. This makes it difficult to obligate and expense these funds in the same period. Other funding sources such as FHWA and HUD are earmarked funds that are intended to accumulate for use in capital projects, and allow for carryover to meet these capital project needs.

The 2018 carryover breakdown by prime funding source was as follows:

BISCOCHOS
Biscochos are a type of sugar cookie dusted with cinnamon. These delicate treats are found at milestone events such as weddings and quinceañeras, but more importantly they take center stage at the annual St. Anthony’s Feast. In preparation for feast, Pueblo members come together a week before to prepare thousands of Biscochos. Tribal Member Mare Silvas provided this recipe. Mare is a frequent contributor to Pueblo feast meal preparations and has been baking since the age of seven. Mare learned how to prepare traditional dishes from observing her mother Herminia Paiz Silvas.

YSLETA DEL SUR PUEBLO · 2019 YEAR-END REPORT
GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATION

TRIBAL OPERATIONS
DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Tribal Operations executes administrative functions for the Pueblo government aimed at safeguarding Pueblo assets through the deployment and enforcement of internal controls. The department is comprised of the following divisions: Management & Budget, Human Resources, Information Technology, and Self Monitoring and Evaluation. Tribal Operations spearheads Pueblo-wide activities such as the development of the annual operating budget, year-end report, facilitates strategic planning, executes and monitors management policies, and supports an inter-departmental network through information exchange outlets such as director meeting facilitation and trainings.

MANAGEMENT & BUDGET DIVISION

The Management & Budget Division is responsible for organizational management, planning, grants management, and budget management activities. This division sets the strategic direction for the Pueblo government’s administration, manages the organizational structure by spearheading department reorganizations, assessing current services and recommending realignments when appropriate. The division also maintains an organization-wide inventory of services, sets the annual budget, and coordinates related budget activities throughout the year. Lastly, it is responsible for comprehensive grants management activities to include database management and analysis. Due to past year process improvements, the division has hit full stride with its budget administration and management practices. Efforts also ensued to automate key budget development tasks among the tribal administration to maximize efficiencies.

SELF-GOVERNANCE

The Pueblo transitioned into Self-Governance contractor status with the DOI on January 1, 2013, under Title IV of the ISDEAA for its core governmental programs, services, functions and activities.

Total BIA funding overall received in 2019 was $2.3 million, an 18% increase. The increase was for contract support and prior year funding.

Under Self-Governance, the Pueblo designs and operates its BIA programs more liberally to meet the needs of the YDSP community more effectively with minimal federal government oversight or intrusion. Service guidelines may be revised accordingly to meet tribal priorities.
The Governor and Director of Operations also serve on a national Self Governance Advisory Committee (SGAC) as Southwest Regional representatives. The SGAC is involved in various national initiatives such as promoting self-governance among other federal agencies, increasing tribal budget allocations, strategic planning for DOI, securing contract support, and safeguarding the federal trust responsibility.

The Director of Operations continues to be a training partner with DOI’s Office of Self Governance for providing a tribal perspective on self governance transition within the agency. The training is provided to new self governance tribes and those exploring a transition.

ORGANIZATIONAL MANAGEMENT

Tribal Operations continues to enhance its service performance reporting, a project designed to collate departments’ key performance measures. The goal is to publish an annual service profile to assess program effectiveness, performance, and accountability. Consequently, performance measures were developed for each department along with standardizing nomenclature for the various levels of the Pueblo Government including outlining the strategic functions, setting formal department and division titles, and identifying related services and programs. Known as the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo Service Map, the document is the Pueblo’s official organizational structure reference. The reference document aids administrators in planning, assessment, and evaluation activities. The Pueblo’s 2019 organizational management profile outlined a total of 6 functions, 11 departments, 33 divisions, 114 services, and 25 programs.

PLANNING

Development of the Pueblo’s Socio-Economic Profile, organizational management, and the Active Grants Database all contribute to identifying opportunities for service enhancement. These efforts will ultimately provide a systematic approach to the Pueblo’s grant writing mission.

GRANTS MANAGEMENT

The Grants Management Division tracked a total of 55 grants and contracts, totaling $21 million from 22 federal, state, and local agencies. In 2019, there were a total of 420 reporting requirements tracked with a 95% timely submission rate, an improvement from 2018. Approximately 96% of all active grants and contracts were federal and 4% were state and local sources. Information Technology (IT) manages and maintains the Pueblo’s computer and data information mechanisms. IT supports all aspects of software, hardware and network design, implementation, and analysis while implementing crucial security measures.

NETWORK & SERVER SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT

In the first quarter of 2019, a new email server was installed where all user accounts were migrated. Also, a new server was deployed to support the computer aided dispatch (CAD) software for the Department of Public Safety; this system replaced the department’s legacy application and required an upgrade to the GIS server. Finally, a new internet service provider has been contracted producing a substantial savings.

SPECIAL SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT

The Pueblo’s phone system was updated to a new system. New hardware and phones were configured and installed at each YDSP building. All departments now have four digit dialing capabilities. Other upgrades included additional video surveillance throughout the Pueblo. Each of these upgrades contribute to enhancement of the Pueblo’s public safety.

MEDIA SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT

The Media Systems Management maintains the Pueblo’s media channels, including the website, social media, and radio station. The Pueblo’s Facebook page has grown to 829 followers, while the Radio Station KUEH 101.5 FM LP listenership reached 1,089 unique listeners. FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The Pueblo government’s net assets increased by 6% over 2018, which is attributed largely to transfers from the business-type activities. The inflow of resources allows the Pueblo to continue operating Tribal community services at an increased level from previous years as our Tribal enrollment continues to increase gradually. Due to our continual growth in workforce and tribal community services, the total governmental expenditures increased by 11% from 2018. In 2019, the governmental revenues increased by 32% compared to 2018 allowing for cash and other current assets to increase by 6% in 2019 compared to 2018.

INVESTMENT SUMMARY

The Pueblo government investment balance increased by 12% from 2018. This was attributed to market valuation increases recovery from the 4th quarter in 2018, market increase valuations during the year, and net transfers from the depository balances to the investment firms. The Minor’s Trust continues to decrease as juveniles become eligible for the distribution until it phases out in the next couple of years. The Investment Committee will continue to review and adopt strategies to maximize the earnings while also implementing long term strategies to increase the valuation of the investments.

Tax Division

Total tax revenue increased by 8% compared to 2018. In 2019 liquor tax revenue increased by 14% and the sales tax revenue increased by 13%, while tobacco tax revenue decreased slightly by 1%. The Pueblo increased the tobacco sales tax rate by 20% in the last quarter of 2019 to mitigate the decrease in tobacco sales.
Procurement & Contracting Highlights

The Procurement Division strives to promote and support Tigua economic prosperity by extending contract opportunities to tribal owned businesses and entrepreneurs. The division also aims to promote tribal preference that best matches services, programs, and business solutions with the Pueblo’s needs. These efforts resulted in Native vendors securing five times more contracts (in terms of dollars) over 2018. Business activities ranged from consulting services, construction, medical services and supplies, and other government-related procurements.

Calabasas and white corn is a traditional side dish that is commonly prepared by Tigua members. This dish is best paired with flour tortillas or baked bread. This Hisa family recipe has been handed down for at least five generations. Former Governor and current Cultural Preservation Advisor Johnny Hisa contributed this recipe that originated from his great-great-grandmother Nestora Piarote Granillo (1894–1918), a resident of the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo known for her pottery. Nestora was also a fluent speaker of the Tiwa language and it is estimated that she has more than 800 tribal descendants. A sculpture of Nestora is located in front of the Tigua Indian Cultural Center.

This division provides a comprehensive array of education, intervention, treatment, and support services. Outreach & Education Services include organizing community events and educational resources to promote the negative impacts of alcohol and drugs.

Crisis intervention employs medical, psychological, and sociological procedures to assist individuals struggling with drugs and/or alcohol and related distresses. Short-term services focus on supplying individuals with tools to cope with immediate trauma, while treatment services aim to mitigate issues related to alcohol and substance abuse. Finally, Support Services offer outpatient care to those recovering from substance abuse disorders. Chile Colorado is served hot with Tigua Indian bread but one may find it a bit picoso (spicy). The Cacique opened his home to demonstrate how to make this savory meal. COMMUNITY & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

TRIBAL EMPOWERMENT

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Tribal Empowerment (DTE) is the Pueblo’s axis for educational enrichment. The department serves a wide range of Tigua members through a host of programs that aim to improve both cultural and educational outcomes across three divisions (Support Services, Early Childhood, and Education). DTE implements youth programs such as Pre-K, tutoring, and library services. The department also serves adult participants with post-secondary scholarship assistance, library services, and tutoring, reaching over 2,500 community members within the year.

In 2019, the department began implementing internal evaluations of its key programs and services. Relying on participatory evaluation approaches, management is attempting to understand its strengths and weaknesses, and thereby, improve communication, program quality, and outcomes while preserving identity, language, history and culture.

SUPPORT SERVICES DIVISION

The Support Services Division bridges service gaps for Tigua youth and adults. Gaps include lack of transportation, identifying student developmental shortfalls, and social and emotional deficiencies. Some of the services include transportation, parenting classes, counseling and advocacy, and library services.

Transportation Services
The division has optimized transportation services by modifying routes and schedules. In 2019, the average number of student transports was 101, an increase of 7% over 2018, and peaking at 138 in March.

Parent and Family Engagement Services
The Parent and Family Engagement Services encourages families to take an active role in their children’s educational pathways as well as identifies Tigua youth who may need additional academic support.

The Incredible Years and Parent Cafés, for example, are designed to strengthen positive family relationships, protective factors, and parent-child interactions. In 2019, The Incredible Years program completed 47 sessions and reached 98 parents. Child-care providers at the Tuy Pathu Early Learning Center and Bright Stars Daycare received 251 hours of professional development to build early childhood education capacity. Further, program facilitators conduct the Ages and Stages Questionnaire (ASQ) to determine young children’s development progress. Overall, 32 children were assessed in 2019 and five were referred for further evaluation.

In 2019, the library collaborated with the Bravery Respects and Values Everyone (BRAVE) Program and the Tuy Pathu Early Learning Center (ELC) to encourage Tigua youth to use library services. By incorporating incentives and activities such as the Read Across [Native] America which included Navajo author Daniel Vandever to read his children’s book Fall in Line, Holden! to YDSP youth, library circulations doubled from 342 in 2018 to 687 in 2019.

EARLY CHILDHOOD DIVISION

Early Learning Services

The Tuy Pathu Early Learning Center (ELC) is a tuition-free child-care provider with an average annual enrollment of 51 children between the ages of six weeks and five years as outlined in the table below. The center creates a learning environment to build a child’s emotional, intellectual, and physical development. In 2019, three child-care staff members earned their Child Development Associate’s certificate (CDA).

students to be school ready. During the 2018-2019 school year, nearly 30 students earned their Pre-Kindergarten Diploma, an increase of 16% over 2018. The Tuy Pathu Pre-K utilizes the Developmental Indicators for the Assessment of Learning (DIAL-4) and the CIRCLE Progress Monitoring System (formerly known as C-PALLS+) to evaluate preschool students in various skill sets. As noted in the figures below, assessment findings suggest that students improved across multiple learning indicators.

At-Risk Youth Services

The Bravery Respects and Values Everyone (BRAVE) Program creates a safe and healthy environment for participants to build upon critical thinking skills, ancestral knowledge, and identity and culture. The program offers year-round services during out of school time periods. Targeting youth 5 to 18 years, the BRAVE Program incorporates the Positive Action Curriculum, drug and alcohol prevention presentations, and other instructional activities. These prevention education sessions develop life and resiliency skills against risk behaviors. In 2019, the BRAVE Program collaborated with a number of YDSP departments to host an array of activities and events; for example, one of the most impactful events was a history lesson on Nestora Piarote Granillo followed by an apricot tree planting. Another session included a therapeutic drumming session where participants learned the significance of the healing drum.

The Inspiring Motivated Proud and Committed Tiguas (IMPACT) Program aims to increase focus on improving higher education attainment rates among Pueblo members. The program targets both high school and secondary education students. In 2019, IMPACT awarded 229 higher education scholarships to Tigua students totaling nearly $500,000. The program also hosted its annual Youth Symposium where 34 students participated in college campus tours at Sul Ross State, Angelo State, Texas Tech, and West Texas A&M universities. Further, IMPACT and its program partners hosted Dream Keepers Summer Program participants, a program for indigenous youth, and introduced them to YDSP history, culture, and traditions. Finally, collaborations with the University of Texas at El Paso, El Paso Community College, and the El Paso Juvenile Probation Department organized a series of educational panel presentations addressing Indigenous knowledge and people residing in the borderland during Indigenous Peoples' Month.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Community Development (DCD) consists of four divisions: Planning, Design & Construction, Realty, Housing, and Property Management. DCD functions as a one-stop shop for project management duties regarding community planning, real estate, housing, environmental, and property management. Some of the department’s responsibilities include the acquisition and records management of real estate, representing Pueblo interests before federal, state, and regional organizations, and the overall construction management and maintenance of the Pueblo’s real property assets.

DCD expanded its footprint to incorporate environmental services. Through support from the Environmental Protection Agency, for example, the department has planned to implement educational outreach activities, conduct environmental assessments and assess energy savings potentials on tribal lands. In addition, the Property Management Division continued to enhance its work order response system and facility management efforts. More notably, the department assumed lead efforts for the YDSP health clinic construction project. Also, the Realty Clinic Ground Breaking Ceremony that included members of Tribal Council and Project partners.
Division assisted in purchasing 23 properties on behalf of the Pueblo, while the Housing Division secured HUD grant funding to build 22 single family homes in the P’a kitu (District II) village.

PLANNING, DESIGN & CONSTRUCTION DIVISION (PD&C DIVISION)

The PD&C Division advanced the development of the Sukin Ibi Teuym Village (where the falcons perch), future site of the Pueblo’s new healthcare clinic. The new village will not only house the clinic but will also include space for retail and other mixed uses. To this end, the division completed the site master plan, water and wastewater infrastructure, site grading, and transmission power line relocation, as well as contracted the clinic design team. The clinic is scheduled for completion in 2021.

Other accomplishments include the remodel of the Tiwahun Complex to accommodate both the Fire and Property Management Divisions. These improvements also included a training room, sleeping quarters, office space, warehouse, and a workshop. The division also completed an irrigation ditch improvement project in P’a kitu (District II). The project provided new water infrastructure for the Pueblo.

REALTY DIVISION

The Realty Division assisted in the acquisition of 23 new Pueblo properties in 2019. These properties are currently being utilized for housing, commercial real estate, and parking. The current land holdings are 74,558 acres as described in the following table.

HOUSING DIVISION

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development awarded the Pueblo a grant to construct 16 single family homes in the P’a kitu (District II) village. The grant application was highly competitive and only 52 tribes nationwide received awards. The Pueblo, however, is leveraging existing funds to expand the project to 22 homes.

HUD press release that announced the recipients of the IHBG Competitive housing grant.

HOUSING WAITING LIST

Notes:
1. As noted by a single asterisk (*), a larger than normal decrease was realized because the minimum household income needed to qualify for the DCD housing programs rose from $13,000 to $18,000 with the Housing Policy revision project of 2016.
2. As noted by a double asterisk (), the decrease in 2017 was due to applicants housed as well as applicants were removed from the waiting since they did not update within a five-year period.

NON-VOLUNTARY TERMINATIONS

Notes:
The Property Management (PM) Division manages housing and maintenance operations including the following services: Custodial Services; Auto Fleet and Equipment Management; Roads and Grounds; Facilities Management; and Housing. The division strives to provide the highest quality while attempting to reduce costs and improve efficiencies. In 2019, PM repaired roofs among several YDSP facilities as well as replaced two air conditioning units at the Tiwahun Complex and Recreation and Wellness Center. The division completed a total of 2,688 work orders, a 4% increase over 2018. The division has enhanced its preventive maintenance schedules and is achieving higher work completion efficiencies. The division aims to coach, mentor, and develop staff’s knowledge and skills, which in turn, helps decrease costs and the reliance on external contractors.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Economic Development builds the Pueblo’s economic growth and capacity while protecting and preserving its vibrant culture. Through its divisions, Financial, Entrepreneurship, Tribal Government and Workforce Development, the department grows members’ knowledge and skills to create self-sufficiency, financial stability, and economic independence. These services and programs include low-income community lending, business and entrepreneurship, tax registration and preparation, research and development, financial literacy, and nation building.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT DIVISION

Tigua Community Development Corporation (TCDC)

The Tigua Community Development Corporation (TCDC), a Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI), continues to serve the Pueblo’s members who have limited access to capital. These financial services attempt to improve those with poor credit while providing feasible lending alternatives. Applicants may qualify for personal or small business loans at below market interest rates. Loan recipients are offered financial literacy sessions that focus on topics such as saving and reducing debt. The CDFI funded approximately 55% of all applications received. Two of the loans approved were for tribal member owned businesses. Since the program’s inception, the TCDC has provided more than $800,000 in loans, having assisted over 150 Pueblo citizens. In addition, TCDC began planning to conduct its first external audit. While also a requirement, the audit can spur new revenue sources such as grants from private foundations.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP SUPPORT DIVISION

The Pueblo recognizes that many of its members have an entrepreneurial spirit and encourages them to pursue their business interests. To improve their chances for success, the Pueblo provides members with educational programs and technical support services. The educational programs are designed to improve members’ skills and knowledge as it relates to business operations. Program participants, for example, completed training and received technical assistance on a wide range of areas, including business certifications, licensing, government contracting, networking, and marketing. In 2019, the program completed 565 sessions and served 1,003 participants as noted in the table below. The division also maintained strategic partnerships with organizations such as the American Indian Chamber of Commerce, the El Paso Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, the United States Office of Small Business Programs and Small Business Administration, Prairie View A&M University, the El Paso Small Business Network, Konnection 03 LLC, and the Contract Opportunity Center. The purpose of these partnerships is to build business capacity to achieve self-governance and sustained economic development.

TARGET TIGUA AMERICORPS PROGRAM

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA)

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) services provides income tax preparation services to tribal and community members at no cost. In 2019, VITA tax preparers at the YDSP location prepared 968 tax returns that yielded over $1.7 million in refunds and $683,000 in Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). In its 16th year of services, VITA not only mitigates fees from predatory lenders and for-profit tax preparation providers, but it also provides program participants a better understanding of the tax process and potential benefits, such as utilizing the EITC as an asset building catalyst. In 2019, VITA had two AmeriCorps Coordinators and nine volunteers who were IRS certified to prepare both basic and advanced tax returns.

NATIVE PATHWAYS (NP)—NATIVE AMERICAN EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING PROGRAM (NAETP)

Native Pathways has made programmatic changes to better serve low income, unemployed, and/or underemployed Native Americans residing in West Texas. To expand services, NP continued to build relationships and collaborations with various job-training providers at technical and vocational institutions, and other worksites. These partnerships provide program participants an opportunity to gain experience in entrepreneurship programs, vocational careers, and technical... careers. These experiences provide insights into how participants can become self-sufficient. Further, Native Pathways prepares participants to possess the proper training and skills critical to any career endeavors they may face. By partnering with Ed2go, an online training provider, NP has expanded its online training platform and now offers over 300 career training programs, including professional and soft skill development.

Native Pathways accepted 32 new participants, bringing the total to 76 for the year. Program participants were enrolled in work experience and training programs while others earned certifications (in IT, cross-fit, graphic design, child care, commercial driving, real estate, healthcare, and cosmetology).

2019 Tigua Next Generation (TNG) Program

The TNG Program, a component of Native Pathways, establishes a positive workforce development path for young tribal members (ages 15-17) by providing them workforce experience opportunities. A total of 45 youth participated in internships at YDSP, City of Socorro, City of El Paso, and other worksites. Native Pathways has been developing additional partnerships with local employers to afford Tigua youth opportunities in a variety of industries and disciplines. Some of the new worksites will expose Pueblo youth to entrepreneurship, robotics, bio-medical, veterinary, and zoology. In addition to workforce experience, Native Pathways attempts to improve participants’ soft skills, ethics, analytical thinking, and problem solving through a host of workshops.

Las Cruces Resource Center

The Pueblo created a satellite office known as the Las Cruces Resource Center in 2018, which serves approximately 400 Tigua tribal members residing in the Las Cruces area. The center provides tribal members free internet access, faxing, and printing services. Other amenities include computer stations for student use, resume building services, and Microsoft Office tutorials. The center also assists students with the higher education scholarship application process. Tribal members attending Dona Ana Community College or New Mexico State University are also eligible for scholarship assistance.

The center plans to expand its partnerships to include the New Mexico Department of Workforce Solutions (WIOA). The partnership will provide tribal members workforce development as well as new financial literacy workshops. Additionally, the Las Cruces Resource Center will engage in strategic planning to identify additional service needs and will develop service and evaluation plans. It is the center’s mission to bring people and resources together to improve lives and strengthen the Pueblo community.

Lastly, the Pueblo partnered with Tax Help New Mexico to extend tax preparation services to the Las Cruces area. A VITA site will be established at the Las Cruces Resource Center and will offer services for the 2020 tax season.
The Red Chile & Pea Soup is a favored household meal, providing warmth, heartiness, and comfort. The soup is simply delicious and enjoyed by all. The Elders of the Pueblo contributed the recipe.

PUBLIC SAFETY

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) provides police, fire, emergency management, and communication services. The department provides emergency planning, coordination, and response services under a single and unified command structure to more effectively manage its public safety resources. With 43 employees, the department supports operational functions including traffic safety, criminal interdiction, emergency management, fire safety, and communications. The department strives to serve, protect, and promote peace within Ysleta del Sur Pueblo.

TRIBAL POLICE DIVISION

The Tribal Police Division (TPD) aims to create a safe and vibrant environment by implementing approaches to protect the community. The division continues to engage the community through its outreach efforts which aim to raise awareness and build trust. Further, the division has acquired and deployed additional personnel and technology to support TPD’s mission. Tribal Police gathers information and intelligence to thwart criminal activity—such activities are in concert with local and federal law enforcement partners, thus leveraging and expanding resources and capabilities. In 2019, Tribal Police experienced notable increases in the number of calls to dispatch, traffic citations and other citations, while domestic violence, assault, disorderly, and theft remained relatively unchanged compared to 2017. The department attributes these increases to additional officers, enhanced operations, and centralized dispatch center.

In 2019, the Tribal Fire Division expanded its role by responding to calls for service. As such, fire personnel continue to maintain their certificates. The division entered into a formal partnership with El Paso County Emergency Services District 1 & 2, to provide supplemental support for one another. Further, the division enhanced its fire suppression and aerial capabilities by acquiring two fire apparatuses, specifically a 2001 Pierce 75’ Quint and a Type 5 Brush truck. Finally, the Tiwahun Complex in the P’a kitu village (District II) was remodeled into a fire station—marking a significant accomplishment.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT DIVISION

The Emergency Management Division (EMD) coordinates emergencies and disasters through preparation, mitigation, response and recovery. Emergency Management’s operation involves plans, structures and arrangements established to engage government, voluntary and private agencies in a comprehensive and coordinated manner.

In 2019, the division focused on its preparedness activities. The Pueblo, for example, participated in the FEMA/Logistics Capability Assessment conducted in August and the National Cybersecurity Review (NCSR) in November. Both assessments provided insight into the status of the Pueblo’s response and protection capabilities, which will benefit the division’s future planning efforts. EMD continued to hold quarterly Emergency Coordination Center (ECC) activation drills and monthly WebEOC drills in 2019 as well. The Pueblo also hosted and participated in two regional exercises. The first exercise allowed the Pueblo to become part of an existing bi-national disease information-sharing protocol, which is utilized by health agencies in the borderland during a public health emergency. The second exercise introduced emergency management staff to state resource request protocols. EMD also continued to conduct Incident Command System training. In addition, EMD hosted the American Red Cross Shelter Management Training and FEMA’s Emergency Management Overview for Tribal Leaders in 2019. Finally, Continuity of Operations (COOP) managers attended training designed to assist with the COOP plan update.

COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Communications Division is a 24-hour full dispatch service, which centralizes all public safety calls. The division experienced several operational changes. First, in January the Communications employees were transitioned from Speaking Rock to the YDSP government. In addition, the Texas Department of Public Safety authorized DPS Tribal Police access to the Texas Law Enforcement Telecommunications System, a database system containing a variety of local, state, and federal criminal information. Further, the Pueblo’s P25 Radio System was upgraded, while the 800 MHz frequency rebanding project was completed to meet FCC regulations.

Other division enhancements included the implementation of the computer aided dispatch (CAD) system. Due to the new CAD system, Communications upgraded its work space and moved into a new office. The system was able to extend services to dispatch for Tigua Animal Control and Tigua Inc. facilities management projects.

TRIBAL COURT AND RECORDS

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Tribal Court and Records (DTCR) is comprised of the Tribal Court and Tribal Records Divisions. DTCR staff includes a director, administrative assistant, court bailiff, court clerk, records clerk, and court judges. The Tribal Court Division provides a venue for petitioners to request legal remedy or redress of grievances for adjudication, and to dispense justice in accordance with the Pueblo’s code of laws. It further serves to protect the interests of justice and equity for the Pueblo. The division promotes the welfare of the tribal citizens while safeguarding individual rights and community standards. The Tribal Records Division is the official data collection and demographic clearinghouse for the Pueblo, maintaining the official tribal census. The division is responsible for the enrollment of tribal citizens, the maintaining of tribal citizenship records, and managing demographic data requests.

TRIBAL COURT

Tribal Court continues to see an increase in the number of cases, which may be attributed to a growing tribal community, an increase in tribal events that attracts more visitors, and a larger police force. As a result, a total of 1,834 citations were submitted by Tribal Police, which was an increase over the previous year. In turn, the number of cases heard and fines also increased. That said, the majority of cases heard were Traffic Code (71%) followed by Peace Code (24%), and Civil Code (5%) cases. The bulk of the cases heard in tribal court were generated from those visiting the Pueblo.

The Tribal Court continues to administer the Youth Drug Court Program, an intervention for youth with underlying drug issues. In 2019, the Youth Court saw six youth cases, where two were resolved with a fine while the remaining will be resolved in 2020.

Professional development continues to be a priority for the Department of Tribal Court and Records. The court bailiff, for example, attended the Best Practices for Safety in the Court Room training, while others attended Drug Identification and Recognition training. The court clerk also completed her court clerk re-certification. Lastly, court staff completed customer service training.

TRIBAL RECORDS

The Tribal Records Division processed 218 new lineal and lateral descendants bringing the total census to 4,569. Overall, the majority (52%) of the population reside outside of the service area (El Paso and Hudspeth counties), and females make up more than half (52%). The median age is 33 years, and 35% are minors.

YDSP formalized a partnership with the El Paso U.S. Census Office. Through this partnership, the U.S. Census Bureau assigned Tribal Partnership Specialist Kendra Moore to the Pueblo. Ms. Moore, in collaboration with the YDSP Census Liaison, will conduct outreach to inform the tribal community of the upcoming 2020 U.S. Census. These outreach events included a presence at the Red Ribbon block party, Rocking the Rez Pow-Wow, and Pre-K family event. The community awareness campaign will continue into 2020. Tribal Court and Records serves as a communication hub for the community. DTCR maintains the membership’s contact information and routinely disseminates the Pueblo’s newsletters and current events to over 2,500 tribal members via electronic communications and the radio station.

MEMBERSHIP SERVICES

RWC continues to invest in new amenities in order to maintain appeal and interest. High quality punching bags and speed bags, for example, were purchased to provide RWC members with new and diverse equipment options. Other purchases included the Rogue LT-1 Trolley™ and Lever Arm Kit station, a high quality and versatile piece of gym equipment. It allows members to quickly configure exercises such as incline bench presses, shrugs, squats, deadlifts, and lunges. RWC also acquired “The Mirror,” a virtual and interactive fitness device that allows members to access various trainers and classes. The gym also includes a retail space for RWC members to purchase supplements, apparel, and water.

SPECIAL EVENTS

RWC hosts a number of large events which provide opportunities to expose the community to its facility and amenities. The 7th annual Mission Valley Duathlon (MVD), for example, was held on June 23, 2019, and hosted 180 participants. The 3rd annual 60-Day Weight Loss Challenge encouraged participants to improve lifestyle choices where those who lost the most weight could win cash prizes. The RWC also hosted the Johnny Benitez Memorial Doubles Handball Tournament, held October 11 –13, 2019, where handball enthusiasts and players participated. The tournament also inducted handball players into the El Paso Hall of Fame Legends. Finally, RWC and the Department of Health Services supported World Diabetes Day on November 9, 2019. The purpose of the annual event is to bring awareness about diabetes prevention and the importance of diet and exercise.

ADVERTISING

RWC Fitness continues to advertise through traditional and digital media channels. In addition to its website (www.rwcfitness.com), RWC Fitness promotes activities and services via its social media including Facebook (@rwcfitness) and Instagram (@rwc.fitness). Finally, the gym invested in signage for enhanced site visibility and access. The signs display business logos, operating hours, and amenities—one was installed on the building and the other at the intersection of Tiwa Blvd and Socorro Road.
CULTURAL PRESERVATION
DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Department of Cultural Preservation (DCP) encompasses three divisions – Cultural Center, Cultural Development, and Repatriation. The Cultural Center exhibits the tribe’s heritage through youth dance performances, educational programs, and other artisan activities such as bead looming, bread baking, storytelling, pottery making, pottery painting, and gardening. The center also provides retail space for tribal members to sell authentic native textiles and crafts. The Cultural Center’s Museum exhibits artifacts, artwork, photographs, films, and interactive works representing over 300 years of Tigua history. Center visitors represent facets from across the United States and the international community. The Cultural Development Division is responsible for Tigua education and traditional activities while the Repatriation Division aims to return Native American items to their rightful owners.
CULTURAL CENTER DIVISION

Museum Activities
On October 2019, the Cultural Center Museum reorganized its displays and relocated panels to make way for new display cabinets. These showcases will display early 19th century pottery including storage vessels and water pots.

Center Operations
The Tigua Indian Cultural Center is open seven days a week from 10 am to 4 pm. The center’s gift shop sells pottery, moccasins, jewelry, books and t-shirts where pottery is the most popular selling item. Tigua pottery is created from both industrial and traditional clay types. Tribal member Frank Gomez makes pottery for the center and also teaches the pottery making process to other members, while Gloria Holguin paints native designs. The center and, more importantly, Tigua instructors teach the next generation of potters and painters.
Notable events in 2019 were the Tawin Festival, and the Summer and Winter Markets. These events included social dance group performances and hosted tribal vendors. The Summer and Winter Markets featured unique demonstrations—the Summer Market, for example, included a glass blowing demonstration.

In an effort to exchange culture and language, YDSP invited Picuris youth (northern New Mexico Pueblo) to perform a basket dance at the Cultural Center. The visit encouraged youth to compare languages, especially given that the two Pueblos share the same language origin (Tanoan). YDSP speaks Southern Tiwa while Picuris speaks Northern Tiwa. It was interesting to compare how both languages share many similarities.

The Department welcomed museum store clerk Eve Torres and congratulates Linda Silvas-Medrano in her promotion as Cultural Center Supervisor. Ms. Silvas-Medrano is responsible for the dance group, museum store, and cultural center activities.

Cultural Programs

Cultural Projects Advisor Johnny Hisa facilitated the planting and harvesting of the Pueblo gardens. Contributing to the gardens were the traditional leaders of the Pueblo (Capitanes). The department also hosted a tractor training at the cultural center where attendees included Property Management employees, Cultural Center staff, and Traditional leaders.
In 2019, DCP and the Health Education Division implemented garden activities at both the P’a Kitu and Iye Kitu Villages. The gardens are designed to educate tourists and tribal members about the Pueblo’s rich agricultural history. Other educational opportunities included the Director’s training on historic preservation.

CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DIVISION

The Tigua Education Program offers Southern Tiwa language classes for adult and youth participants. The one-hour sessions are typically offered on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and all levels of Tigua speakers, including YDSP employees, are encouraged to attend.

In 2019, the department was awarded a grant from the MICA Group. The purpose of the grant is to preserve Southern Tiwa by collaborating with language instructor Michael Abeyta from the Pueblo of Isleta. Grant activities enable Mr. Abeyta to provide technical support and assistance to DCP. The Department was also awarded a Chamiza Foundation grant to support pottery making classes. Staff member Richard Hernandez is the pottery-making instructor for these classes. The classes are offered on Saturdays for three months and the grant supports three cohorts. Lastly, the department was awarded a National Park Services grant to register tribal properties on the National Register of Historic places.

REPATRIATION DIVISION

The Repatriation Division, under the authority of the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA), advocates and facilitates the return of Native American cultural items to their respective peoples. On March 6, 2019, the Traditional Council and the Director of Cultural Preservation met with Stitching National Museum representatives about extending the loan of YDSP artifacts including a drum, drumstick, a war shield, moccasins, a gourd and a war hat. While the loan extension was denied, the Stitching National Museum provided the Pueblo with their policies and procedures (Return of Cultural Object: Principles and Process National Museum van Wereldcultu ren) on how to repatriate artifacts. The Pueblo will review and study these policies and explore new avenues to return these artifacts.
CHILICOTE RANCH

Chilicote is a sprawling ranch of over 70,000 acres located in Presidio and Jeff Davis counties. The ranch is home to grasslands, brush, shrub, and mountainous terrain. The lands are part of the Pueblo’s aboriginal lands where Tigua ancestors lived, hunted, and held religious ceremonies. Today, YDSP utilizes the ranch for its cattle operations, recreation, and agriculture endeavors. Chilicote is also home to a range of wildlife including mule deer, white tail deer, aoudad sheep, javelina, quail, and other predatory animals such as mountain lions. The Pueblo acquired Chilicote ranch in 1999 and has implemented policies to establish harvesting standards for hunting and habitat conservation.

The Pueblo continued to partner with the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) and implement conservation and stewardship best practices. Through participation in the Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP), the Pueblo implemented grazing management strategies and enhancements to sustain wildlife. In 2019, Pueblo leadership decided to diversify ranch operations and began exploring agricultural business interests. As a result, the partnership with NRCS will consider new strategies that align with both tribal and agency priorities.

In 2019, the ranch suspended hunting and hospitality activities to remodel the main ranch house and guest quarters. This major remodel included upgrades to the kitchen, bathrooms, game room, living area, and bedrooms. The purpose of the modernization is not only to attract high-end guests and hunters but also a getaway for tribal members and their guests. The Pueblo believes the upgrades will dramatically improve the guest experience.

Finally, Chilicote conducted its regular cattle roundups, which are designed to maintain cattle inventory and yield revenue. These revenues support feed, labor, vaccinations, and equipment.

The livestock inventory for 2019 was 257 cows, 12 steers, 9 bulls, 7 geldings, 2 mares, and 1 donkey.
Verdolagas are a leafy green vegetable closely related to spinach. The vegetable contains potassium, magnesium, and beta carotene. Verdolagas are seasonal and typically prepared during the summer months. Provided by the Elders of the Pueblo, this recipe combines Verdolagas with pinto beans, making it a hearty and healthy meal.
